

Pi's Watercourse

The little Menehune carry stones down the hill.

My name: _____

A story from Hawaii (Waimea, Kauai)

Retold from "Hawaiian Folk Tales: A Collection of Native Legends," gathered by Thomas G. Thrum (1907); from Thrum's chapter on the Menehune, built out of Hawaiian accounts, including one given by the storyteller Moke Manu.