

The Raven and the Goose

The raven and the goose paint each other's coats.

My name: _____

A story from Inuit, south-east Greenland

Retold from "Eskimo Folk-Tales" (1921), gathered in Greenland by Knud Rasmussen and put into English by W. Worster, and told in south-east Greenland.

"Eskimo" is the word printed on that 1921 cover; the people call themselves Inuit, and in Greenland, Kalaallit.